TO PRESERVE ORDER

Local Professional and Business Men Become Part of City Constabulary.

TO SERVE DURING PERIOD OF G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Members of the Extra Force Receive Badges and Instructions-Assignments Are Made.

Several hundred Washington business and professional men were sworn in as special policemen to assist the regular force during the forty-ninth annual encampment of the G. A. R. at the close of a meeting of the commit-tee on public order held in the red of the New Willard Hotel last night. The oath was administered by Chief Clerk Hesse of the police department, all members of the committee being thus enlisted as aids to the regular force. Maj. Pullman, superintend ent of the metropolitan police departnent, who is chairman of the committee, gave his new officers a few words of admonition as to how to act while wearing their badges, and following him William F. Gude, general chairman of the citizens' committee, urged every man present to do his best to the city except onally welcoming and pleasant and homelike to the

All subcommittees turned in reports, the result being a complete plan for public order during the encampment. Chairmen made their assignments, and every member received definite instructions as to his duties while the reunion is in progress, with especial reference to the administration of public order during the grand review of Wednesday.

Asa E. Phillips, chairman of the committee in charge of roping Pennsylvania avenue to keep the street clear from crowds on the day of the parade, reported that all arrangements had been made, and that the avenue would be roped from 1st street northwest to 18th street northwest.

From the committee on street car schedules David S. Carl reported that a satisfactory arrangement had been made to stop car operations at the necessary points during the parade hours.

Odell Smith, chairman of the subcommittee on stands, assigned his committeemen, with instructions to take command of all accidental situations that might arise.

Charles W. Darr reported that the members of the subcommittee on stations had been assigned to various railroad depots to greet incoming crowds and to make themselves useful.

Special posts and assignments were riven to the committees on hotels and ibstructions. The chairman of the former ommittee, Richard B. Watrous, anounced that one feature of his work ould be to protect strangers from overlarges by hackmen.

To Prevent Obstructions.

The work of the subcommittee on obstructions, of which Maj. George P. Ahern is chairman, is principally to prevent the use of boxes, barrels, stepladders, etc., for standing purposes of the sidewalk. The instructions and mem-bership of the committee are as follows:
"The purpose is to have all merchants, dealers, occupants of property and others along business and occupying premises along Pennsylvania avenue and 16th street northwest co-operate with the au-thorities and this committee to prevent the use of barrels, boxes, stepladders and other articles for standing purposes on the use of barrels, boxes, stepladders and other articles for standing purposes on the sidewalks from which to view the parade. The sidewalks must be kept open to pedestrians, the visiting people, and it is in violation of the law to occupy the streets, and all such as do should be arrested if they do not desist. Our people can do much to assist in breaking up the practice, and their thorough aid is colicited.

practice, and their thorough and is solicited.

"The committee members have full police powers to arrest, and the police will assist when called upon. Lists of patrol wagons and ambulance locations are furnished, and should be understood, so that sick or injured may also be cared for by this contingent.

"Early on the scene will prevent, which is easier than curing after the evil is done. Members should familiarize themselves with all laws and regulations which are furnished, and the captain of the committee will observe that orders are carried into effect.

Committee Holds Meeting.

Charles W. Darr, chairman of the mittee on depots, called a meet-commerce yesterday afternoon. Most of the members were in attendance, and much interest in the work was manifested. The chairman read the instructions of Maj. Pullman, chairman of the general committee on public order, and explained what each member would be expected to do.

Chairman Darr said he felt certain that members of his committee were willing and anxious to do the work required of them. He assigned Milburn J. Donohoe to serve as captain of the detail at Union station, where, he stated, the greatest number of committee committee men would be on duty. D. J. Callaren was assigned to the steamboat wharves, Edwin R. Brooks at 15th and H streets northeast, Elmer W. Hel-land at 14th street and New York ave-nue and R. Harrison Johnson at Vir-ginia avnue and 7th street southwest. Duration of Duty Period.

Members of the committee were told hat their work would begin the mornng of September 28 and continue until on the following day. Each member probably will be required to perform bout three hours of work. Chairman

On the cap of the bronze pillars supporting the second story is a representation of each of the different army corps badges. The different arms of the service, infantry, cavalry and artillery, are represented in the scheme of decoration. The navy is represented by four beautiful union jacks and two seventy-five-foot pennants.

Five garrisons flags, thirty-nine feet by nineteen feet, are suspended from the top of the large pillars. Around the tents in the lower court, and between the large pillars, evergreens are tastefully arranged, and in the basin of the fountain are ferns, plants and water lilies.

The corridors leading to the rooms of the commissioner and deputy commissioners are decorated with emblems bearing the words "Welcome G. A. R."

Weterans Made Welcome.

It is the desire of the officials of the bureau that the veterans be made to feel that they are welcome there during the entire week of the encampment.

The decorations of this building have been prepared entirely as the result of the liberal contributions of the employes and officials of the pension bureau and the bureau of Indian affairs and with the active assistance of many in putting the decorations in place.

The main court of the building between the eight large columns surrounding the fountain has been arranged so as to represent a field camp, There have been provided a headquar-tanged so as to represent a field camp. at Progreso. BROWNSVILLE. Tex., September 5.-No further fighting or raiding in this vicinity was reported today, but was apparent that United States Army officers were taking additional precaut ons to ferestall, if possible, a repetition of outlawry such as occurred yesterday at Progreso, Tex. Denials that Carranza forces had in any way taken part in the fight at Progreso were reiterated tonight by Carranza authorities at Matamoros.

U. S. Soldier Missing. Richard J. Johnson, private of Troop B, 12th United States Cavalry, the detachment which participated in yesterday's fight at Progreso and who was SPECIAL CHURCH SERVICE reported missing, has not been found. His absence was reported to Maj. Edward Anderson late today at Harlingen, Tex. It was feared he has either been kidnaped or killed by Mexican bardits.

The body of Private Henry Stubblefield, killed in yesterday's battle at Progreso, was brought here today and prepared for shipment to his father, William Stubblefield, at Big Stone Gap. Va. It will be shipped from here tomorrow.

G. A. R. Encampment Souvenir Editions of The Star

No richer souvenir and no better record of the great gathering in Washington of veterans of the war can be obtained than the daily issues of The Star. Every number will be filled with illustrations and reading matter of the most interesting character, covering the historical event, memories of which will be revived by the great reunion, as well as the happenings of each day graphically reported. The papers issued during the week will form a complete history of this memorable gathering.

The Star will be mailed from Sunday, September 26, to Saturday, October 2, inclusive, to address in the United States for 25 cents, outside of Washington. Those who cannot come to the encampment should have The Star sent to them, and those who do come will want The Star for the week as a most interesting, accurate and witnessed in the National
